

DAVOS KLOSTERS – A HIKERS WONDERLAND

A 700 km long hiking network invites to explore the wonderful mountain world of Davos Klosters. From leisurely panoramic paths to high alpine trails, everyone – from stroller to experienced hiker – will find suitable paths and trails.

Mighty mountain ranges with peaks over 3,000 metres high line the landscape around Davos and Klosters. Wide high-altitude trails offering breathtaking views lead along these mountain flanks from one Alp to the next, where rustic restaurants with sunny terraces invite for a leisurely rest.

In Davos, the 9-Alpen-Tour is particularly noteworthy, leading from the scenic high-altitude trail on Parsenn over the «Zauberberg's» Schatzalp or the art-historically interesting Stafelalp to the Bärenentaler Alp, where bears lived more than 150 years ago. The round trip from Klosters village to Schlappiner Joch and back to Klosters village is also well worth exploring. It offers a varied nature experience with high alpine pastures and huts, rushing torrents, traditional mountain houses and dense pinewoods.

Marvellous Side Valleys

Easy trails lead through the three wonderful side valleys Flüela, Dischma and Sertig, which are hourly accessible by post bus from Davos. Old Walser paths via secluded passes connect the three valleys. A must-do is the hike to the Jöriseen - also for the less experienced and families with older children. From Davos Platz the post bus takes you to the stop at Wägerhuus in the Flüela Valley from where you walk to the Winterlücke and on through a spectacular alpine landscape to the uniquely situated mountain lakes. This day hike can be continued to the Berghaus Vereina and from there to Klosters. The RhB train is a convenient way of returning to Davos.

On Smuggling Paths across the Border

Along old smugglers' paths, a hiking trail leads from the Madrisa over the border separating Switzerland and Austria. Starting and finishing points are the mountain stations of the Madrisabahn and the Schafbergbahn Gargellen. There are nine smugglers' hiding places along the route to be found. The two-day search with GPS can be booked as a package deal with the two mountain transport companies. schmugglertour.com

High-altitude Euphoria for Summiteers

The Flüela Pass area offers spectacular hiking trails to the Flüela Schwarzhorn, the highest point in the Davos region (3146 m above sea level), to Piz Grialetsch (2542 m above sea level) or Piz Sarsura (3174 m above sea level). The Silvretta Hut at 2341 m above sea level was built in 1865 as Switzerland's third SAC Hut. It is starting point for a multitude of high mountain tours. The «Blue Silvretta» in the three-country corner of Tyrol, Vorarlberg and Graubünden is one of the pioneering areas of alpinism. Exciting Hiking Experiences

Various theme and nature trails are available for families, culture and nature lovers. Two special attractions are mentioned here:

„GWunderwald Davos“: With its length of 13 km it is one of the largest nature trails in Switzerland. The centre of the trail is the idyllic Heidboden near Frauenkirch. This recreational forest planted with larches can be reached on eight different and combinable sub-paths. Along the trails there are about 30 activity posts where Squirrel Koni sets tasks and explains nature, forestry, mountain and agriculture to young and old in a playful way or answers questions about water, hunting and avalanches. gwunderwald.ch

Gadenwäg Klosters: Along the hiking trail from Monbiel to Russna, five converted stables - «Gaden» - present both interesting and educational facts about alpine agriculture and the mountain farmers of Klosters: be it the world of agricultural sounds, the different animal breeds on the Alps, the symbiosis of agriculture and tourism or regional arts and crafts. klosters-pur.ch
